Karen Haman

My name is Karen Haman. I grew up in Monroe, in a family of seven, which included three sisters and one brother. I married and raised two daughters and one son. My children have gone on to lead successful adult lives of their own. My daughter Renee is a customer service representative for Monroe Bank and Trust. My daughter Katie is currently studying to become a dental assistant. My son Ronnie is majoring in Chemical Engineering at the University of Toledo. I am also the proud grandmother of four. These grandchildren represent life's greatest blessing to me!

I was drawn to my volunteer work by a longing to share the gifts God has given me with others. My work in the IHM Gift Shop brings me in contact with many of the IHM Sisters, each of whom is unique and special in her own way.

I have been honored and deeply moved by the many small kindnesses to me throughout the Motherhouse. I have enjoyed volunteering more than words can express and I hope I remain a part of this spiritual community for many years to come.
